TEN CENTS

BASEBALL TEAM FIGHTS GAMELY

NEXT GAME WILL BE WITH GEORGETOWN

After fifteen years of absence from the diamond, George Washington sent a baseball team against the redoubtable nine of Catholic University at Brookland last Saturday. Handicapped by a late start and by poor facilities for practice, the Buff and Blue team put up a game fight in the face of the odds, but was forced to take the short end of the score.

Catholic University gathered twenty-two runs, scoring eight runs in the first inning and the other fourteen in the succeeding innings. George Washington was able to score three times in the eighth on a base on balls, a triple by Hardigan and another hit.

The prospects for the following games are excellent. All the players, stung by a first defeat, are keyed up for the Georgetown game the 21st, and hope to stage a real comeback and cause sorrow among the rooters on the Hilltop. The game with Georgetown is sure to be hotly contested, for it seems that the Blue and Gray is George Washington's real rival.

The team is slightly in need of financial and moral support. If the students at the Arts and Sciences will make good their pledges of money and the student body will turn out en masse to cheer at the Hilltop game, the team will be heartened, and correspondingly spurred to better results.

George Washington is now represented for the first time in a decade and a half in one of America's greatest sports and the only thing which will keep the sport a-moving is the student support. Are you with us?

Girls' Basketball Letters Awarded

Miss Martha McGrew, Miss Sara Maul, Miss Unruh, Miss Moody, Miss Catherine Gayle, Miss Eckard, Miss Moncure, Miss Brewer, and Miss Nona Pollner, Manager of the Girls' Basketball squad of the University, were recommended for letters by the Athletic Committee of the University Student Council at the last meeting, held March 31st, at Lisner Hall. Miss Unruh has been elected Captain of the team next year, according to Miss Pollner, the Manager.

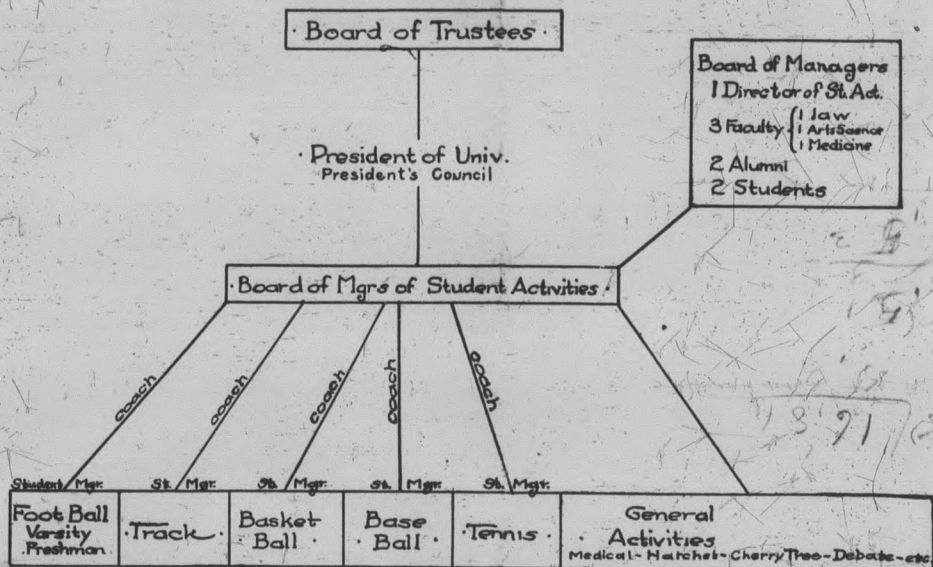

The Athletic Committee reported the appointment of Miss Gerry as Assistant Manager of Swimming and Miss Symmonds and Miss Smith as Assistant Managers of Tennis. Mr. Ladd, Manager of Men's Tennis, reported that the firm of W. F. Roberts had offered a cup to the winner of the Tennis Tournament this year. The Council decided that the cup should be the property of the man who won it two years in succession.

The Council approved a suggestion to award suitable insignia to the Senior Marshals and also to the Editors and Business Managers of THE HATCHET and Cherry Tree.

PANHELLENIC LUNCHEON FIRST OF MAY

The Panhellenic Association is making plans for its annual scholarship luncheon to be given May 1. Only those girls' records are considered who are carrying 12 hours' work and who have an average of at least 90 per cent. To be a guest at this luncheon is a decided honor, for it means that you hold a higher scholarship record than any other girl in your class and department.

PLAN OF MANAGEMENT ADOPTED FOR STUDENT ACTIVITIES

HANSON FACTOR IN RETURN OF BASEBALL

To Edward J. Hanson, Columbian College Representative on the University Student Council and Chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Council, is due the credit and thanks of the school for the fact that a baseball team has been made a reality, according to advices recently sent to THE HATCHET.

Mr. Hanson went before the Faculty Committee, armed with the surplus funds left from basketball and convinced the committee that a team was a financial possibility. He assured the Faculty that there would be no deficit at the end of the season and accepted personal responsibility for any money lacking at the close of the year. The Faculty, reassured by Mr. Hanson's "Showing Cause," granted the team.

Mr. Hanson attended the University of North Carolina before coming to George Washington. He has shown studious inclinations, as is demonstrated by the fact that he will receive the degrees of A. B. and LL. B. at the 1921 Commencement.

The following article from last week's HATCHET will best show his record:

EDWARD J. HANSON, a Junior in Columbian College, and a Junior in the Law School. Ed. was manager of the Law School baseball team in the Interdepartmental League in 1918-19, and is an Assistant Manager of the Varsity team this year. He is a member of the Columbian Debating Society, and Chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Student Council this year. Ed. is the man about whom one of our Faculty said, "Hanson said 'Let there be baseball' and there was baseball," speaking of our team this year.

NEAR EAST TAG DAY APRIL 10.

The Near East Committee of the city is having a tag day on April 10th and has asked that George Washington University furnish fifty girls to sell tags. All the money that is taken in that day will be credited as having come from the University. An Armenian flag is to be given to the University contributing the most to this fund, as a recognition of their efforts. George Washington University is in the lead so far. Let's win the flag! Any girls willing to serve for a couple of hours or more that day are asked to give their names to Miss Elizabeth Schaaff, at once.

TRUSTEES ADOPT ACTIVITY PLAN-- FOOTBALL FOR 1920 NOW CERTAIN

Football has come back to George Washington!!!

The prodigal has returned to the fold, after three years' wandering, upon decree of the University Board of Trustees, at their meeting last Saturday. The year 1920 will see a group of huskies out practicing in regular style and the same year will perceive the fair city of Washington plastered with posters advising folk of the coming games!!!!

The Board passed a resolution presented to it from the Faculty Committee and approved by the President's Council, calling for the establishment of more athletic activities and providing for an Athletic Director and a Board of Managers, made up of the Faculty, Alumni, and Students, with the Director as Chairman, to govern all student activities and to further their extension.

JUSTICE STAFFORD WILL SPEAK AT LAW BANQUET

Mr. Justice Stafford, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, will be the principal speaker at the Seventh Annual Banquet of the University Law School, to be held in the basement of the New Masonic Temple, on Tuesday, April 13th, at 7:15 P. M., directly after the close of class.

Dean Ferson will act as toastmaster and conduct the joyous festivities, which include addresses from representatives of the student body, Mr. Patrick, of the Senior Class; Mr. Whitley McCoy, from the Second Year Class, and Mr. Cleveland, from the First Year Class. Music and special stunts by the students are planned, the nature of which the committee has refused to divulge, but according to a notice, "will take the house by storm." "We shall be as wise as Solomon," continues the notice, "and as foolish as Eddie Foy! And we shall eat Oh, Boy! We shall EAT!"

Because of the limited space, the number of tickets has been limited to 350 and the lawyers are urged to buy tickets now. The notice quoted above says, "If you don't get your ticket within a day or two all reservations will be off and tickets remaining on hand will be sold to the first comers. The dinner, the music, the fun, all for one price. One night only. Get on the band wagon. The best two dollars worth of the season!"

Hiram (seeing the sights)—Shall we take in the show, "Angle Face?" Mandy—Now, Hiram, control yourself!—Ex.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board:

WHEREAS, General student activities and athletics have their recognized place in the organization of most colleges and universities with their value so well determined that they are considered to be a part of the general educational curriculum; and,

WHEREAS, The National Collegiate Athletic Association, composed of practically all prominent universities and colleges, has recommended, to all institutions not so organized already, that athletics be developed as a part of the general educational program under a director of full faculty standing; and,

WHEREAS, The wider recognition which comes to a University from student activities which are properly supported and conducted is desired; and,

WHEREAS, The George Washington University is in need of a definite policy in regard to the conduct of its student activities in order that it may take its place among other universities of the same standard, develop the national scope for which its alumni have hoped, and develop in its students a high morale and spirit of loyalty to the University; and,

WHEREAS, The Faculty Committee on Student Activities believe that such needs as hereinbefore stated can be met by full cooperation of the faculty, alumni, and students; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Faculty Committee on Student Activities adopt the following plan and offer it to the President's Council for consideration.

1. That a Director of Student Activities be recommended for appointment

CONTEST CLOSES APRIL FIFTEEN

AN EXCELLENT YEAR BOOK PROMISED

All subscriptions to the Cherry Tree must be turned in on or before April 15. The contest for the prize offered by the annual will close on that day. All students desiring copies of the book will find subscription blanks in the office of their University building. All filled blanks should be turned into the secretary at the different offices. No subscriptions will be solicited or accepted after April 15, and no copies of the Cherry Tree will be on sale after their publication.

The 1920 Cherry Tree will be a book of 352 pages and every page a picture. Beside containing the usual array of Senior biographies, pictures and accounts of class histories, it will be replete with pictures and accounts of events connected with the University which have more than the usual amount of historic interest. Chief among these are full page pictures, with appropriate write-ups, of the presentation of the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon King Albert of Belgium, and of Blasco Ibanez, with a facsimile of the latter's note of thanks to the University and his signature.

Other things of interest in the book are a full page service flag, in colors; a full page picture of the Junior Prom, a varied and extensive array of paintings and drawings and pen etchings by members of the student body; and an unusually clever bunch of "Cherries," or jokes, at the end with suitable snapshots and cartoons.

There will be full page pictures of the buildings of the University, including Lisner Hall, Woodhull Administration

Last Council Dance April 21

She laid her head upon his shoulder and sniffed away an extra grain of rice powder, tossed her marcelled ringlets and breathed a sigh of perfect content. While he, the gallant, posed his head at the correct height and shuffled his nimble tootsies. The strains of a dreamy waltz floated out into the air and the pair moved gracefully into the encircling maze. A moment of the waltz and the Jardiniers hesitated—turned a page and broke forth with "Home, Go Home." An angry look crossed his noble brow and his teeth gritted. She awoke and crooned, "Oh, dear, this can't be the last."

But the Jardiniers waxed ecstatic and finished, and not heeding the vociferous clapping of the dancers, dabbed a perfunctory rub at their musciers and began to wrap up.

It was so! The last dance of the year. No more would the strains of Professor Jazz's creations float across the shining floor—no more would the pretty co-eds snuggle close for a five-minute whirl. The Council had played its last act and the fourth dance of the year was at an end. And so ended the last dance of the year—a fitting finish for a successful season of jollity.

But this is but a premise. The next Council Dance will be given at Mrs. Dyer's on R street on the 21st of April and the co-eds and noble youth of G. W. U. will have another chance to dance dreamily to the celestial strains of Roscoe Lee's famous pickers, will find a chance to partake of the refresh-

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND FOOTBALL.

The Board of Trustees, in deciding upon the extension of the University Student Activities, has adopted a plan of management which calls for the direction and control of all student activities under a Board of Managers and a Director of Student Activities. This comprehensive plan is a decided improvement over the system heretofore in force.

An analysis of the adopted plan, which is to govern student activities, shows the following:

First, it provides for a representation on its governing board of the three main branches of the University, namely, the Faculty, the students and the Alumni. This in its very principle is sound and basic. It brings together in equal power the three units of the University. The Faculty is represented through its three main departments, Arts and Sciences, Medicine and Law. The students are represented by two members appointed by their representative body, the University Student Council and the Alumni, in turn, by two members appointed by the President of their Association.

Second, it brings all the activities under the direct control of one body, the Board of Managers, and makes all activities answerable to a single head, in distinct contrast to the present system where certain organizations are responsible to the Student Council and certain others to the Faculty Committee. Thus, a final decision may be reached without undue hesitancy through uncertainty of power.

Third, the plan calls upon the University for the appointment of a Director of Activities, with full Faculty standing, whose whole concern will be the furtherance and success of the activities under his direction. It makes him responsible for the University property, a matter which, in the past, seems to have been rather neglected. It calls upon him to arrange schedules with colleges which will be necessary for the upkeep of the University's standard. It requires him to supervise the authorized expenditure of duly appropriated funds. Finally, and perhaps the most salient feature, it makes the Director responsible for the status of all students "participating in any student activity."

Fourth, the plan creates a definite policy: that of setting aside a surplus of funds for the erection and maintenance of something long needed for the extension of the activities and something necessary for the successful execution of the well-laid plans—a gymnasium!

Such is the admirable plan which the Trustees have adopted in the effort to create a "Greater George Washington." And with the renewed and widened outlook and the broadened vision of greater accomplishments, together with a practical and most feasible plan of execution, the University has entered upon a new era of progress and extension.

With this plan as a working basis, Football is to be re-established.

"THEY TOIL NOT—"

By EUGENE UNDERWOOD, JR.

"They toil not, neither do they spin." Who? The lilies of the field? Yes, the lilies of our campus!

Every letter awarded for athletics so far this year has gone to men who have employment other than their school work. Of the editors and business managers of the two school publications one has employment outside of school notwithstanding the spirit of the rule that such editors and business managers must be "full time day students."

The manager of basket ball this year was a night school student employed during the day. The manager elected for next year is a night school student employed during the day. The manager-ship of The Patcher, the tennis team, and the baseball team are in the hands of one man. Because of favoritism, or special privilege? Not at all, but because he is a good man, and there were no other dependable, hard-working students available for the work.

Who attends our athletic competitions? The day students who have most of the time? A certain answer to this question is more difficult, but for the most part the G. W. U. supporters are night students. Look, for example, at the C. U. game last Saturday. Count over a list of those present. Fifty percent were night students who have employment outside of school, which they probably had to leave, but they were on hand. How many were there of the men who gracefully drape themselves over the railings at 2023 G street and call themselves enthusiasts? Few, if any.

Why does this situation prevail? Is it because we have no more men of man-sized Calibre? Probably not, but because those men, so much in evidence when words of enthusiasm are the only gauge of ability, quail before the sight of real work to be done. It seems that they have not the interest they simulate.

Don't be satisfied with agreeing with the conclusion here reached on the basis of the statements made, but look around you and see if it is not so. Notice the men you see at the day school and ask yourself, What does he do for the University? What work has he done or is he doing to advance the interests of our Alma Mater? Don't be satisfied with an inward question, but ask the man himself. If he is doing something for the University that you don't know about, do him the justice to find out from him. If he is doing nothing, you will then know what kind of a man you are dealing with, and he will know what you think of him.

You girls, who can be such a power in behalf of our student affairs, look around you to see who is doing the work. Bestow your favoritism not on the man who buys you drinks at Quigley's, not on the beaux of society who wears the handsomest features and the loudest tie, but on the man who is a worker, on the man who does things—he is the worthier of your esteem and admiration.

With the renewed interest in athletics and other organizations men are

"WHY ARE CHAPELS"

Hon. HATCHETT:

Why are chapels, I enquire for knowledge?

Hearing quiet song-books, I go up stair-rail to see why. Many stus are escaping on all diracshuns from classrooms, with convershashunal outcries. I distinguish musicians with detective ear efforts and continue in. I march up isle, escorted by hymn-books which are sung out-loud in timid tones, while foot-prints without make accompaniment.

"I are lateful," I perceive, speaking to self, but are mis-taken.

Sing books continue like triumphal march, while stu's make shuffle up isle way for chairs. Finally amazing number of 2 doz. are collected along walls.

"Where are no?" young lady makes ticklish whispers to me.

I transfer query onwards without finding out. I peek sideways for search but hon boy are singing up-sides downward. With stealthy toes I make expedition to other isle for gal-lantry. Whack! I hear explosion with embarrassed horror and notice upset chair, while prof and stus persue me with surprised intonations. With desperate expression, I seem unimpressed and receive sing no. of finally, from near-by stu. But lady are now singing and all make silence. I hunt chair with thoughts of suicide.

Such axidents of my helplessness cause me to ignore other discussions. I weep invisibly while smiling.

I wish to inquire, Why are chapels? I are perplex.

Hoping you are the same,

SESSUE TOGA.

REGARDING BASEBALL CONTRIBUTIONS.

Those of you who have been personally reached through baseball representatives know that the team urgently needs your financial, as well as your moral, support. Relatively few students in the Columbian College have up to the present time given their contributions. Many have promised, however, and we want to remind them of the situation as well as those who have neither promised or contributed.

The manager of the team, John Ladd, has not the time to keep after the students who have promised their share or to go out and talk to all that have not been approached in reference to this matter.

If you have promised and have not paid up, Mr. Ladd can be found in THE HATCHET Office during the day and he will be glad to receive your contribution. If you have not been approached on the subject, he will be equally glad to talk to you on the subject and receive your contribution.

needed to do the work necessarily incident to the success of these enterprises. Men must be trained to succeed those now in office. Opportunities are plentiful, abundant, for the man who has the impulse and will back it up with work. The reward for the work is sure and certain.

Any editor, any manager, any captain, will be glad to talk over the situation in his field with any honest inquirer. This year is not yet over, and it is not yet too late to get in line for a good position next year. If you do not get in line now you will not get the job next year!

Addresses were given by Harry Strang, Jean Boardman, Lieut. Marion Tanner, Billy Schwartz, and William L. (Billy) Phillips, the grand secretary. The "Billies" were the goats throughout the evening. Charles Proudly rendered a pleasing piano solo, and Ben Foster a vocal solo which brought several encores. The Old Guard, the alumni, was well represented, giving to the evening the old pre-war atmosphere. Among those present were Congressman Robert Johnson, of the State of Washington, and William C. Van Vleck, secretary of the Law School.

MAJOR FOOKS CITED FOR HEROISM.

Herbert C. Fooks, L.L. M. '20, and Major, Third Battalion, 145th Infantry, 37th Division, has recently been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for "extraordinary heroism in action near Eyne, Belgium, November 4, 1918," according to advices recently received by THE HATCHET.

The citation reads: "Herbert C. Fooks, Major, Third Battalion, 145th Infantry, 37th Division. For extraordinary heroism in action near Eyne, Belgium, November 4, 1918. Although severely wounded and his jaw shattered by a machine gun bullet, he refused to be evacuated, administered first aid himself, and continued to fearlessly direct his battalion during a strong counter attack. The personal example of this officer was a vital factor in the success of the operation."

A casting for one of the huge water-wheel driven generators installed in the Mississippi River Power Company's plant at Keokuk. This installation will ultimately consist of thirty of these machines, giving a total capacity of 216,000 kilowatts (300,000 horse-power). It is the largest hydro-electric development in the world. The General Electric Company builds generator for water-wheel drive in sizes ranging from 37 1/2 to 22,500 kilowatts and the aggregate capacity of G-E units now in successful operation is in excess of four million horse-power.

Utilizing Nature's Power

ELECTRICAL energy generated by water power has grown to be one of our greatest natural resources—and we have only begun to reach its possibilities. It mines and refines our ores, turns the wheels of industry, drives our street cars and lights our cities and towns. The power obtained from Nature saves many million tons of coal every year.

At first the field of its utilization was limited by the distance electricity could be transported. But soon research and engineering skill pointed the way to larger and better electrical apparatus necessary for high-voltage transmission. Then ingenious devices were invented to insure protection against lightning, short-circuits, etc., which cause damage and interrupt the service. And now all over the country a network of wires begins to appear, carrying the magic power.

The General Electric Company, with its many years' experience, has played a great part in hydro-electric development. By successfully co-ordinating the inventive genius of the company and its engineering and manufacturing abilities, it has accomplished some of the greatest achievements in the production and application of electrical energy.

The old mill wheel of yesterday has gone. Today the forces of immense volumes of water are harnessed and sent miles away to supply the needs of industry and business and the comforts of the home.

JUNIORS START ENDOWMENT FUND

The Juniors of C. C., following their usual line of activity and pep, are completing plans for the big endowment fund campaign which was originated in one of their meetings last fall. The plan as outlined is to make a canvass of all the students of the University for a contribution to the endowment fund. With a membership of 3,500 the possibilities are ostensibly without limit. The minimum that has been set is $25,000.

The Juniors are planning to have one big week of campaign the latter part of April which will end with a Japanese Lantern fete on the Basin or a field day on the Monument Grounds. They hope to be joined in their enterprise by the Junior classes of both the Law and Engineering School.

Miss Katherine Symmonds is chairman of the committee in charge of the campaign. She is aided by Mr. Harry Newman, Mr. Preston Haynes, Miss Olive Prescott, Miss Margaret Smith, Mr. Bernard Burdick, and Miss Mary Roberts.

Mr. George Sheriff was made chairman of the committee which has within its jurisdiction the planning of the Junior Farewell Banquet and Dance to be given some time in May. This affair will be in keeping with the other stunts that the Juniors have pulled off this year, and will be the very best that effort and work can make it. The banquet and dance will probably be held at the Lafayette Hotel.

The President of the Junior C. C. at the meeting congratulated and thanked on the behalf of the class Mr. Harry Newman, Mr. Bernard Burdick, Mr. Cameron Burton, and Mr. Preston Haynes, whose untiring efforts and splendid ability made the presentation of a Junior Week such as the University has never seen before, possible. These Juniors, along with their committees, worked incessantly on the preparation and presentation of Junior Week and deserve the fullest amount of credit.

The Junior Play and Prom were financially a success, a few dollars having been realized on these affairs.

The class welcomed the sergeant-at-arms, Miss Martha Waring, whose smiling face and useful suggestions were greatly missed during Junior Week.

Also pictures of all the graduating Seniors, all class officers, the President and other officers of administration of the University, and group pictures of all the athletic teams and all the organizations of the school.

One feature of the book, and one that will undoubtedly add much interest among the undergraduates, is a display of approximately twenty full pages of snap-shots of every conceivable variety taken in and around the school of everything and everybody.

It goes without saying that this year's Cherry Tree is made of the best materials possible, and is of the highest grade of workmanship that money can buy in the way of printing, engraving and photography.

GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY MEETS WASHINGTON & JEFFERSON COLLEGE IN DEBATE.

In a debate, filled with thrills and electrifying interest, the Washington and Jefferson College Team was given the decision by the judges over our stalwart debaters last Friday night, April 2. The judges' decision was given in all sincerity and we, therefore, do not care to appeal from the verdict, but it may be said without in the slightest way reflecting on their honesty, integrity and ability to judge, that had they decided in favor of the affirmative (George Washington's Team) the biggest part of the audience would have accepted the verdict with that spirit in which every one takes the inevitable.

The greatest amount of credit is given to the visiting team for their expert knowledge of the subject and their excellent method of defense and attack exercised in the presentation of their side of the controversy; but we cannot lose sight of the fact that in individual debating qualities and teamwork the home debaters had the edge on the visitors.

However happy it would have been to have come away with the decision of the judges, the G. W. U. team need not feel that they were not victors in the sense of complete mastery of debating ability. The University has ample ground to be proud of its debating team. It conducted itself with supreme tact, ability, manliness and loyalty and more good than this can be said of no one.

The members of the Washington and Jefferson team were C. Dewey Ford, Joseph V. Leech, Paul L. Shrum and Charles S. Hart as alternate. The debate was presided over by Hon. Thomas Sterling, United States Senator from South Dakota.

The George Washington University publicly extends its thanks to the Y. M. C. A. for the use of the Assembly Hall in which the debate was held.
